

CMWC Vision Statement

We are recognized as the foremost mine warfare asset available to the Fleet Commander. Our focus is on supporting the national interest by the timely applications of force from the sea. By employing our forces in the most economical and safest manner, we accomplish our assigned missions without harm to our Sailors and lead the way for the fleet, our customer.

In order to respond to the threat, our forces provide deterrence through presence and an ability to project power quickly. We incorporate new technology and innovative thinking to carry out our critical mission in an increasingly hostile global maritime environment.

We recognize that our people are our most important asset. Continuous improvement in training, tactics, threat awareness, and support services will enable us to continue to field the best trained Mine Warfare force in the world. We support naval doctrine by our tradition.

"Where the fleet goes, we've already been."
